Editors' Honesty Queried By County Roads Chairman

SHOULD SERVE IN PUBLIC OFFICE OR NOT CRITICIZE REMUNERATION

Editor, The Era and Express: The recent article published in your paper under the heading of "Salary Grab" being an editorial reprinted from the Richmond Hill Liberal, wherein York county council and two county representatives appointed to the Toronto and York Roads Commission were criticized, has been brought to my attention.

The criticism contained in the Richmond Hill Liberal article is calculated to make farmers, business and professional men question the advisability of devoting the time they do to the management of public affairs. Their time, energy and experience could be spent with greater profit and appreciation on their farms and at their businesses and professions.

The Toronto and York Roads Commission has been severely criticized by the city of Toronto. In the course of the last few months a sincere attempt has been made to re-establish the commission in the confidence of the province, the county and the city. Those who are most familiar with the problems of the commission recognize that the time and experience which are necessary to administer this system do not permit a man to fulfil his duties in (Page 2, Col. 7)

HORSE KILLED, YOUTH INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Drury Greenwood, 19, Sharon, was taken to York county hospital on Friday, suffering from head injuries, after the car in which he was driving struck a horse on the Sharon-Holland landing road. Greenwood was returning from a dance. The horse, belonging to William Jordan, Newmarket, was killed and the car was a total wreck.

The horse had apparently broken out of its pasture and got out on the road. There was no one else in the car at the time of the accident. Constable Joseph Jardine, Queensville, investigated.

BANK RECORDS 50 YEARS IN NEWMARKET

BANK OF MONTREAL MARKS 125 YEARS SINCE OPENING DOORS

REFLECTS CHANGES

Canada's oldest banking institution, the Bank of Montreal, on Tuesday observed the completion of 125 years of service to the people of Canada. Founded in 1817, half a century before Confederation, the bank is today a nationwide institution with branches from coast to coast. When the Bank of Montreal came into being a century and a quarter ago, life in Canada was rather primitive. Travel was by stage-coach and ox-cart, by canoe and sailboat. No steamship had ever crossed the ocean and the voyage by sailing ship across the Atlantic, even under favorable conditions, often took three months to accomplish. There were no railways, and electricity and the telephone were unknown.

In 1817, Canada as such did not exist. The country consisted of a few thinly-settled colonies, whose population totalled something less than 400,000. Montreal, the chief trading centre, had a population of less than 20,000.

Canada's First Real Money Canada had no currency of its own, and not only American, British and French, but Spanish and Portuguese money was in circulation. Naturally, the rates of exchange into colonial money of account were subject to frequent variations, and as a consequence domestic trade was carried on principally by barter, and international business was on an unstable basis.

It was in an endeavor to overcome these chaotic conditions that nine Montreal merchants banded themselves together to establish the Bank of Montreal. Opening its doors on Nov. 3, 1817, the young bank immediately set about the business of giving some semblance of organization to the financial (Page 3, Col. 6)

FINDS U.S.A. TAKING WAR AT HIGH PITCH

Editor, The Era and Express: I dropped off a day at the Falls on my way home from New York. I have been visiting my son, Dr. James L. Boyd, in New York city for the past three weeks. The weather was beautiful and I enjoyed myself. My son goes to Washington this week to join the American army as a surgeon. He volunteered several months ago but there is such a congestion in the clerical work over here. It takes time and immense labor to admit millions of men into the army so quickly.

I spent one week in Buffalo, saw a blackout and a drive for scrap, which was collected on Sunday morning by 3,000 volunteer trucks. One could not imagine such heaps of metal scrap were possible.

The streets are dimmed in New York city, dimmer than the streets of Newmarket. People drive their cars with the dim lights only. During my three weeks in New York I mixed a lot with the people. Heard their reaction to Roosevelt's speech, also Wilkie's.

The war spirit of the people has reached a higher tempo in 11 months than the Canadians' in 38 months. They wonder why we Canadians do not handle the Quebec situation with firmness and dispatch, seeing they are a minority blocking the wheels of progress.

However, the rank and file of American citizens have the most friendly feeling towards Canada. The war effort has drawn the two countries, i.e., Canada and the U.S.A., very close together. I hope no event occurs to mar the good spirit of comradeship, in the prosecution of the war, which now prevails.

I saw the Normandie lying on her side at her dock like a huge dead fish. The result of sabotage, of course. The superstructure has all been removed.

Looking after the ills of the people has become quite a problem in the U.S. due to shortage of doctors. Many doctors have cut out altogether or reduced to a minimum house calls on the sick. They believe they can serve more people and better by having them come to the office when at all possible or be taken direct to the hospital. This again has created a congestion in the hospitals.

I hope to arrive home Wednesday, Nov. 4, feeling much improved in health. Travelling around the hospital so much with my son, I was able to observe and pick up some ideas in treatment which I hope will be of use to me when I resume practice.

I am glad the Victory Loan is progressing so well. The results are wonderful when all pull together. I am,

Yours very truly,
S. J. Boyd, M.D.

Home and School Club Hears Talks On Music

The Home and School association enjoyed an interesting and instructive meeting at the Sturdt School on Tuesday evening of last week. Mrs. R. E. K. Rourke introduced the guest speakers.

Madame Henri Lassore, Aurora, teacher of eurythmics at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, spoke on eurythmics in relation to music.

"Musical education, done with movement, has more enjoyment for children," said Madame Lassore. "They learn concentration and through that physical control. They learn to interpret music and thus in later life are able to interpret and enjoy concert music more fully."

Norman Tuckwell, music supervisor of East York schools, spoke on music appreciation in the schools through participation, playing of recordings, playing of instruments, the study of composers and types of music. Mr. Tuckwell played selections on the violin, viola, cello, oboe, clarinet and banjo. He was accompanied by Gerald Rutledge, Newmarket.

Mr. Tuckwell also spoke on the value of music in wartime and stressed the value to the children of singing war songs and national songs. He closed his interesting talk by playing "My Buddy" on the clarinet. This he dedicated to the men in the army.

Newmarket Needs Another $50,000 To Reach Objective

North York Objective Is In Doubt As Loan Enters Its Last Three Days, Stouffville Is Closest

North York had passed the million dollar mark last evening, but still had a long way to go to reach its $1,600,000 objective for the general canvass. Subscriptions stood at $1,082,100.

Unless North York people re-canvass themselves and make a last valiant effort, it is doubtful if North York will achieve its objective by Saturday night, when the loan closes.

Lacking war industry and having lost some population since last year, North York is probably $100,000 behind its position at this point in the last loan.

Holland Marsh growers have signed application for $50,000 worth of bonds on the Victory ticket plan, and are anxious to do more if a government or other market can be found for their produce.

Newmarket had reached $195,750, with $250,000 as its general canvass objective. King township was among the leaders with $115,650 out of an objective of $175,000.

Stouffville with $46,750 was probably closest to its objective, $55,000.

Much Loved Citizen, George Thompson, 60, Dies Suddenly

MANY MOURN WELL-KNOWN MACHINIST AND GOOD CITIZEN

A friend of every man, and the enemy of none, George Henry Thompson died last Thursday night after a seizure which apparently occurred the previous evening. Mr. Thompson lived alone in his Queen St. home. He was in his 61st year.

Mr. Thompson had been at work in his machine-shop the previous day and was found unconscious on Thursday morning after he did not appear at the shop. Rev. G. H. Johnson conducted the funeral service at Roadhouse and Rose funeral chapel on Saturday afternoon.

Pallbearers were W. H. Eves, Fred S. Thompson, Joel Woodcock, David Love, Thos. Gardiner and George Stark. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

The son of Elizabeth Gardiner and Charles Augustus Thompson, George H. Thompson was born in Newmarket. His mother's father built the foundry now operated by George Stark.

Mr. Thompson learned his trade as a machinist with his father at Cane's factory. He and his father started the machine-shop together and later with Alex. Rutledge expanded into the garage business. About 30 years ago a younger brother, Charles Thompson, who died over three years ago, took over the garage business.

George Thompson lost his right hand in an accident in the machine-shop in 1921. He carried on, however, with an artificial hand, and was still an exceptionally clever machinist. He also used to tell that he had no sense of smell and that as long as he could remember everything, including food and flowers, had smelled alike to him.

He made a friend of everybody who entered his shop by his readiness to oblige. He forgot or minimized his charges.

Mr. Thompson married Verna Johns of Newmarket, who died 13 years ago. A sister, Mrs. Lillie Scott, died 14 years ago. His nearest relative is his sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Newmarket.

Mr. Thompson was a faithful attendant, both morning and evening, at St. Paul's Anglican church.

"Musical education, done with movement, has more enjoyment for children," said Madame Lassore. "They learn concentration and through that physical control. They learn to interpret music and thus in later life are able to interpret and enjoy concert music more fully."

Norman Tuckwell, music supervisor of East York schools, spoke on music appreciation in the schools through participation, playing of recordings, playing of instruments, the study of composers and types of music. Mr. Tuckwell played selections on the violin, viola, cello, oboe, clarinet and banjo. He was accompanied by Gerald Rutledge, Newmarket.

INVESTMENT CONFIDENCE

It is natural but at the moment unfortunate that the public has more confidence in the stability of the Canadian chartered banks than in the dominion government treasury. Victory bond salesmen are finding it difficult to persuade some people with money in the bank that their money will be just as safe invested in dominion government bonds as it is now in savings banks. The salesmen are quite right. If the dominion government ever defaulted, the banks would have to default too. The public's job at the moment is to bolster the dominion government and to provide it with the funds to carry on the fight against Nazism.

People have more confidence in the banks than they have in the dominion treasury because the banks have conducted their business in a sound way for long periods of years (the Bank of Montreal this week marks its 125th anniversary) and they have continuously told the public the important facts about their businesses. They have published statements of assets and liabilities and year after year, and week after week, they have urged people to save with confidence that the money will be there when they want it.

It is impossible for the government to catch up with the banks in a few weeks, or a few years. People are not going to have equal confidence in the safety and availability of their money when invested in government bonds, and yet the fact remains, so far as we can see, that government bonds are just as safe and just as liquid as bank deposits. And of course the bonds pay a little better interest.

The government is in the fortunate position that the banks, when consulted by their depositors, are advising people to invest in Victory bonds and the survival of democracy. The government is in the fortunate position that not only bank managers, but all thoughtful and patriotic persons are trying to make a success of the Victory loan. The government is in the fortunate position that largely due to bank urging to save and bank cultivation of saving habits, people have the money to invest. People should take their banks' patriotic and sound advice and invest in Victory bonds.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

(Contributed)

The local branch of the Canadian Corps is making its annual Poppy Day appeal to the people of this community on Saturday. The Poppy Fund is now a recognized institution wherever the Canadian Corps exists in Canada, and it serves a twofold purpose of much merit. The money which is raised by the distribution of the poppy—the symbol of sacrifice—is used entirely to relieve unusual distress among veterans of the last war and the present conflict, and their families. At all times it has been found that the veterans, in view of the fact that many of them have disabilities and handicaps, suffer even more than others who are out of employment, since many of them require special care and attention which they are unable to provide. This is where the Poppy Fund, raised through the sale of poppies by the local Corps, steps in and provides relief.

There is another reason why every citizen should wear a poppy for Remembrance Day. These poppies are manufactured in the Veterans' shops of Canada, workshops in which handicapped veterans are given sheltered employment, and in which they manufacture the hundreds of thousands of poppies which are distributed every year at this time. By wearing a poppy citizens can find much satisfaction in knowing that they are helping those handicapped veterans to obtain a livelihood which they would otherwise lack on account of their special disabilities.

This twofold appeal should find a ready response in the hearts and minds of the people of this community, which has always been ready to make the way easier for those of its citizens who served country and empire in the Great War, and in this present conflict. We commend it to your sympathetic consideration, in the hope that you will respond generously and thus help to hold the torch flung to you by those who did not come back.

CABBAGES AND KINGS

According to a British ministry of information pamphlet, the king "has had a five-inch line painted around the baths, five inches being the prescribed allowance of bath water" in the royal household. This water-line, designed to save fuel, recalls Samuel Plimsoll's line painted by law on British ships to prevent overloading. Or maybe it is just reminiscent of the ring around our own bathtub.

Ottawa dispatches indicate that many more small merchandisers are going to be squeezed out of business. Fort Erie Times-Review comments: "There is no truth in the rumor that Eaton's and Simpson's are united in protest against the closing down of 20,000 smaller businesses to aid war production."

Everybody who possibly can should buy Victory bonds. The many small purchases are just as important as the few large purchases. Everybody pulling together can put the town over.

As people living along Yonge St. know, Gray Coach Lines, operated by the Toronto Transportation Commission, does not give bus service at Richmond Hill because that would not be fair to the municipally owned radial system which the T.T.C. operates for the municipalities served. Radials were considered a mistake and most of the lines, including the line from Richmond Hill to Jackson's Point, were torn up long ago.

The Yonge St. radial has, we believe, shown an operating profit even during some of the depression years, and now, with automobile travel curtailed, it is showing a heavy operating profit, which should take care of capital costs and pay some of the deficits of the past.

Someone rer asks that Canada is not over-equipped with transportation facilities when everybody is at work—at least, not when rubber and gasoline are also scarce.

Of People And Things

OFFICERS' RALLY

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Mrs. Hayes has a wonderful way of making one SEE what she is talking about and exactly as she wishes you to see it.

When she said that our women's organizations are an integral part of the very fabric of democracy, one seemed to see a great strong web guarding the things we women value.

"Then what," said she, "can I do to support and maintain these institutions?"

If you're a Christian, with a sense of duty, you will not leave things to the other fellow.

Each Institute member must be prepared to do things. Do not let fear of imperfection keep you from taking office or contributing to programs.

Mrs. Hayes said she had seen an Institute collapse from a too steady diet of perfection. That was when officers remained in office too long, and no one else would assume their job for fear of falling short of their appalling efficiency.

Then she gave these specific axioms for program making: (1) Make every meeting a profitable investment, for women invest time and many things to attend; (2) Make the programs intrigue and stimulate the mind; (3) Have every member participate, even if only in the roll-call, but, and this is a big but, make the roll-call worthwhile, something worth impressing on one's mind; (4) Have a definite goal—learn something from your programs—have them all contribute to one end; (5) Have them meet the needs of the individual and community; (6) Make your programs a means of discovering talents; (7) Try to make them a means of increasing membership.

In the discussion which followed, Mrs. Hayes asked what a woman invested in meetings and I'm giving some of the answers—time, talent, energy and money.

If we invest these, it's up to us to make the meetings pay in interest, in profit and recreation.

We should revive demonstrations, for the eye is quicker than the ear. Current events are very valuable, but should NOT be too long and they should be discussed. Find ways of helping war effort—one was collect old wool—any pure, clean old wool. Schomberg did this, all the members and others contributing. It was sent away and seven lovely blankets for the Red Cross resulted.

Our Institutes should find out the needs of the individual member, mental and physical, as far as possible, and try in some way to meet them.

Have a question box at meetings.

50 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files Nov. 4, 1892

Mr. John Barry and family have moved to Toronto. Mr. Barry has been a resident of Newmarket for over 40 years.

Miss Clara Caton of London, England, arrived at Newmarket on Tuesday morning. She sailed from Liverpool with her father, who died at sea. Mr. Caton was a brother of Mrs. Wm. Law.

G. E. Good of the Ontario Bank staff has been moved to the Sudbury branch. H. Heap of Lindsay has entered as collection clerk.

C. A. Terry and brother, also Alf. Terry and Dr. Scott left for Muskoka this week on a deer hunt.

Mr. H. Lewis is home from Toronto this week.

BORN—At Sutton, Oct. 22, 1892, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, a son.

Duncan Alexander Croall Scott-Ford, a 21-year-old British merchant seaman, went to the gallows in Wandsworth prison, England, on Tuesday. He had been giving important information to the enemy regarding convoys between England and a Portuguese port and in one case endangered the lives of his own shipmates. Scott-Ford was paid £18 for the information and the Germans threatened to expose him to the British authorities if he did not keep on working for them.

Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate for the New York governorship, defeated the Democratic candidate by a large majority in the election on Tuesday.

The establishment of wholesale and retail businesses, now manufacturing and processing businesses has been banned in Canada unless exceptional circumstances justify the granting of a permit to do so by the wartime prices and trade board. Retailers and wholesalers are ings. "Women's organizations," said Mrs. Hayes, "are doing a tremendous amount of war work, and guarding the home front, and improving it, so that when the boys return, a better Canada may await them."

One way to increase W. I. membership, said she, was to make the meetings so interesting that people just couldn't stay away.

"Go to a meeting to GIVE," she continued, "we are too apt to go for what we can GET. Give, for a change and give generously of yourself."

There were only 11 branches represented out of the 25.

We must use the tools—the proper tools to make our meetings interesting. Papers on worthwhile subjects, discussions, lectures and demonstrations all are good.

Co-operation in war work is the great essential, and women should use every effort to give, for if we lose the war, women lose ALL that makes for decent living.

If we balance what the soldier gives against our giving it should spur us on to greater efforts. There should be a discussion of bulletins from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and our Institute liaison officer should be given a chance to be heard.

Contests, games and humor should characterize all social gatherings at this time—something for children, young people and adults alike—where they can meet on common ground.

Mrs. Hayes strongly advised printed programs. Apart from their legitimacy they were excellent advertising, especially if the programs when once seen, spoke for themselves of the excellence of what they represented.

Following are some suggested roll-calls: How does advertising affect my buying, a Canadian-made article I use in my home, recipe to conserve sugar, hints for better citizenship, hobbies for the middle-aged, how farm women can find leisure, how to postpone old age, should women sit on juries, small courtesies worth observing.

Every Institute should have its secretary send official papers. At a meeting of this kind one gains so many worthwhile ideas that it seems too bad more do not take advantage of the opportunity thus offered to gain fresh perspectives through which to scan our Institute life.

Mrs. Hayes' personality is so dynamic that she can infuse some of her own enthusiasm into her listeners and rouse them to a sense of the deep responsibilities Institute work entails.

also prohibited from stocking goods they do not ordinarily deal in.

Red army forces were crowded back on Tuesday on fighting lines between Nalchik and Ordzhonikidze, 60 miles southeast, by a mixed force which included two Rumanian Alpine divisions and a detachment of 1,500 German sailors.

Germany resumed its air attacks on Great Britain and residents of historic Canterbury were still cleaning up this week the wreckage caused by a daylight raid on Saturday.

The Japanese have landed more troops on Guadalcanal island. The landing was made east of an embattled airfield and its defences on Monday night after United States destroyers had bombed enemy positions west of the American lines during the day. Japanese naval forces had withdrawn from the neighborhood of the Solomons, it was reported.

Hitler has dismissed Governor-General Hans Frank of Poland because he was "too humane" with the Poles. He has been replaced by a storm-troop general.

British forces continue to make progress in Egypt. A major victory is possibly in the offing.

The Australians have won additional engagements in New Guinea.

his spare time. The commission will spend in this year of retrenchment over $300,000. In years of expansion it has expended over a million dollars.

I have no apologies to make for the recommendation that the two county representatives on the Toronto and York Roads Commission should be paid the sum of $1,500 per year to compensate them for the time, attention and ability which they will give to its administration. A farmer should not be asked to leave his farm or a business man to leave his business or a professional man to leave his practice for the time that it is necessary to administer this commission without compensation. It is true that in the past the representatives of the county of York were paid a small daily indemnity for each meeting attended. That system, which seems to meet with the approval of the writer, did not result in successful operation. The time has arrived when men who perform public duties should be honest with those who elect them and indicate clearly that there are a few of us who can spend a substantial proportion of our time in the administration of public affairs without reasonable compensation.

Both of the men nominated by the county council of the county of York were men of long municipal experience, men who are thoroughly familiar with the roads system and men who carried public confidence that the system would be operated honestly, fairly, economically and equitably. Neither representative sought the job. Both were approached because they had the qualifications required. Neither of them suggested compensation. We should not ask men to perform public services without compensation and we should not permit those who seek such positions upon the theory that they will give their services free to get hold of such jobs.

This article has done injustice to two men who have given the county of York valuable municipal service. If newspaper editors are so philanthropically inclined that they suggest that public men should administer public affairs at their personal expense, how is it that editors are so conspicuous by their absence from municipal councils and commissions? Either they are not honest in their suggestion that public services should be given without compensation or perhaps they do not possess the qualifications which would justify their fellow citizens in entrusting them with appointments of such importance.

The editorial influence in the north end of York county should be employed for the preservation of a system of highways which has been extraordinarily beneficial to that part of the county. The thing that the north end of the county should do is to suggest the abolition of the Toronto and York Roads Commission. The writer of the editorial apparently did not appreciate that the commission operates 340 miles of roads, of which 250 are arterial highways leading to the city of Toronto which are paid for by the city, while the county and the province are 80 miles of internal county highways paid for by the county and the province. This is a system which anyone interested in the north end of the county should do everything in his power to preserve.

The north end of the county should appreciate that over 70 percent of the cost paid by the county comes from the municipalities suburban to the city of Toronto.

Neither "dollar-a-year men" nor people who suggest that they are willing to handle very large sums of the public's money without reasonable compensation have succeeded in convincing the people of this country that such activities can be carried on without direct or indirect compensation for the persons involved. To criticize fair compensation for honest men who will do an honest job is to contribute to the perpetuation of the conditions which led to the condemnation of the old commission and the resignation of all of its members.

Yours very truly,
F. G. Gardner, K.C.
Chairman of the County of York Roads Committee.

CITIZENS OF YORK COUNTY!

YOUR GOVERNMENT NEEDS YOUR SCRAP IRON AND STEEL NOW

More scrap steel and iron is urgently needed if we are to produce the ships, tanks, planes, guns and munitions necessary to win this war. You are asked to do your part by turning in every available ounce of scrap metal you can find in your home or on your farm.

This campaign is from November 1st to December 15th, 1942.

In order to facilitate the systematic collection of scrap iron and steel in your County, Wartime Salvage Limited, a Government Company, and the Steel Controller, have completed arrangements with your County Warden and Township Reeve to supervise the collection and sale of the scrap iron and steel you deliver.

HERE IS WHAT YOU DO

Dig out every ounce of scrap iron and steel you can put your hands on.

Township Groups have been formed. Find out from your Township Reeve how and where he wishes you to take your scrap.

The price to be paid by Wartime Salvage Limited, a Government Company, has been fixed by the Department of Munitions and Supply as follows:

1. Price at Collection point will be $7.00 per net ton on ground.
2. For scrap loaded on cars containing less than 25 tons, price will be $9.50 per net ton.
3. For scrap loaded on cars containing 25 tons or more price will be $10.00 per net ton F.O.B. cars.

The above prices will be paid for all forms of scrap iron and steel excluding (a) Sheet Tin of any kind, (b) Automobile Bodies and Fenders, (c) Stovepipe, and (d) Wooden Attachments.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF YOUR SCRAP WHEN COLLECTED!

When you have delivered your scrap to the place designated for your Group in accordance with the instructions of your Township Reeve, you can then—

- ★ 1. Sell your scrap metal to the Government Agency and divide the proceeds of such sale among the various members of your Group to which you will be appointed by your Township Reeve, or—
- ★ 2. You may donate your scrap metal to the Voluntary Salvage Corps or Committees functioning in your Community, or—
- ★ 3. You may sell your scrap metal to the Government Agency and then turn over part or all of the proceeds of this sale to the Local Salvage Corps or Local War Charities.

Your contribution to the war effort is simplified by this arrangement. Don't wait until you are urged by your Township officials to do this all-important work. Get busy right away. Canada needs, and must have, tons of scrap iron and steel now if we are to keep our fighting forces armed and ready to win through to victory.

life of the country, and its first task was the issue of paper currency—that is, the bank's own bills in small denominations—and later, copper coins. Specimens of this currency, which was in reality the first Canadian money, are preserved in the bank's museum in Montreal.

Helped Organize Trading
Besides providing a medium of exchange such as had hitherto been lacking, the bank nursed along the early enterprises of the country and did much to straighten out the difficulties of international as well as inter-urban trading.

One of its most important undertakings was the creation of the branch banking system. It had established itself in modest premises only two weeks when it opened an agency at Quebec city. Eight months later, in June of 1818, agents were appointed in Upper Canada. Kingston, which was then important as a garrison town, and at York, as Toronto was then known, which, with a population of 1,000, was an outpost for lumbering and the fur trade—industries which formed the only basis of the export business of the country.

Thus it was everywhere throughout the country. As the years went on and settlement spread out, the bank opened branches to facilitate the agricultural development of the country, its manufacturing industries and its general commerce.

Pioneering Spirit
Since those pioneering days, when the bank's officers travelled from branch to branch "at first safe opportunity," as old records say, to the modern times of 1942, when travel by train and aeroplane has made journeys a matter of hours when formerly they occupied several days, the history of the Bank of Montreal copiously demonstrates the pioneering spirit of Canada's bankers.

Today the bank has hundreds of branches throughout Canada and Newfoundland and its own offices in London, New York, Chicago and San Francisco. The size of its capital and reserves, at $75,000,000, today stands in sharp contrast to the corresponding figure of a century and a quarter ago, when the bank began business with a capital of $350,000. It now has more than a million deposit accounts—about one in every four in the Dominion.

Bank's Special War-Time Services
At the time of the bank's 100th anniversary, in 1917, Canada was at war. Today, as the bank passes its 125th milestone, Canada is again at war. Under the stress of war conditions, the institution with its resources, its 125 years experience and its nation-wide system of branches, is playing its part in the nation's war effort, just as it did 25 years ago. In hundreds of communities, great and small, the bank is working with Canadian industry and agriculture by furnishing credit and the many essential banking and financial services. Further, it is aiding the government by promoting Victory loan campaigns, by the sale of war savings stamps and certificates and in other war activities.

Bank Serves Community
For 57 Years

Just as the bank has served the people of Canada without fail since its foundation in 1817, so for 57 years its Newmarket office has endeavored to work for the advancement of this community. By reason of the services it has rendered to the people and business interests of Newmarket, the bank has added materially to the growth of the town and the development of its trade and industry.

The office was opened in 1885 by the former Ontario Bank, an institution which shortly after the turn of the century entered into amalgamation with the Bank of Montreal. During the time the bank has been established here, Newmarket has progressed steadily and in this progress the bank has been and continues to be an important factor.

The various men who have managed the affairs of the local office have been among the prominent citizens of their day, having always taken an active part in the life of the community, and having interested themselves in all matters affecting its welfare. R. D. Brown, the present manager, was preceded by P. J. Tod, now national selective service officer, and Mr. Tod was preceded by W. J. Smithers, now at Renfrew.

Ferns, 'mums and autumn flowers formed the background for a pretty wedding at Mount Albert church on Saturday when Doris Gertrude Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Draper, became the bride of Pilot Officer Donald B. Stewart, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart.

Rev. W. H. Burgess performed the ceremony and Miss Kathleen Rutledge, Newmarket, was at the organ. Mrs. Marshall Lyons, Scarborough Bluffs, sister of the bride, sang "All Joy Be Thine."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of white triple sheer crepe. Her bouquet consisted of white baby 'mums and pink roses. The finger-tip veil of tulle illusion was caught in a halo of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Miss Marion Stewart, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and wore a replica of the bride's gown in heavenly blue. The groom was attended by LAC Bill Brown, R.C.A.F.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Draper received the guests wearing a gown of royal blue crepe, with a corsage of rust rosebuds and black accessories. The groom's mother assisted, attired in twinkling blue crepe with velvet trimming and wore a corsage of pink and white medallions with navy accessories.

For going away the bride chose a turquoise blue dress piped with red and gold military braid, with blue travel tweed coat and navy accessories.

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM

A Fighting BIRTHDAY
OUR 125TH ANNIVERSARY 1817 * 3rd NOVEMBER * 1942

Glorious deeds for humanity have brightened the years of the century and a quarter through which the Bank of Montreal has lived and served Canada. Sordid deeds of treachery and tyranny cannot detract from the record of courage, faith and achievement made by democratic, freedom-loving nations and peoples.

Canada, in the 125 years of the Bank's existence, has grown from a pioneer colony to a state great among nations in wealth, world-wide activities and influence.

Born when Canada was still a wilderness, with here and there a town, the Bank of Montreal has marched, worked and fought beside Canadians of all generations since 1817, assisting in every field of endeavour to build and preserve the nation.

As on our 100th Birthday, in 1917, we now find Canada, together with her sister dominions and her allies, fighting with all her strength, but confidently, for freedom and all that freedom holds.

We re-dedicate on this our 125th Birthday all our accumulated experience, knowledge, technical skill and financial strength to the service of Canada and her citizens.

ALWAYS SERVING CANADA

When the Bank of Montreal began business on November 3, 1817, the only transportation in Canada was provided by horse, wagon, stagecoach, canoe and river packet. There was no means of communication, excepting letters delivered by courier. There was no common currency.

In 1942, the picture of Canada presents a modernly equipped nation with gigantic industries, networks of railroads and motor highways, great steamship lines, continental airlines, instantaneous communications between all parts of the country and with all parts of the world, and a stable system of banking which gives wings to commerce.

In this picture, builded into it for twelve and a half decades, generation after generation, stands the Bank of Montreal, now with hundreds of branches, strong with youth, experienced with age—still serving Canada, in this latest time of crisis.

The customary "shell-out" visits to householders and stores were also few and far between. In King township the names of nearly 20 were taken by police for damage caused and these will be dealt with shortly in Newmarket police court.

Can't Collect Business Tax From Governor

Aurora town council on Monday evening designated Monday, Nov. 9, at 8 p.m. for the court of revision on assessment and appointed Mayor Frank Underhill, Reeve C. A. Malloy, Deputy Reeve C. E. Sparks, and Councillors Ross Linton and A. A. Cook to compose the court. It was the same quintet that decided appeals last year.

"Most of them only three appeals filed up to Monday night," said Clerk A. C. A. Willis. "At the most there would be only one or two more."

"I note the general assessment is down by $2,021 this year," said Reeve C. A. Malloy. "What is the reason?"

"The ordinance plant tore down the Fleury moulding shop, and several businesses that operated last year are not in business now," said the clerk.

"Can we not get a business tax from the army depot?" asked Councillor Linton.

"No," said Town Solicitor L. C. Lee. "There is no business tax applicable against the dominion government."

"Were there no new buildings erected this year?" inquired Councillor Fred Rowland.

"Most of them have not been included in this year's roll," said the clerk. "When the assessor was around they were not very far advanced in their building."

Councillors Dr. G. A. C. Junton and A. N. Fisher were both absent, which was the first occasion in two years that two members of the council had been absent at the same time.

"We have had very few assessors," said Mayor Underhill. "If the members are away it is always for a good reason."

Relief figures showed a total of $458 spent in October. "One lady went on old age pension this month," said Mr. Willis, "so there are now only three on relief. Some of the others will be off soon."

The council authorized payment to the Bell Telephone Co. of $136.40 for the joint use of poles.

"We have a contra account of $181.60," said Councillor Ross Linton.

The council turned over to the Aurora salvage committee a ton of scrap which had been collected at the waterworks. The council received a statement from the salvage committee and requested more details.

The winners received medals and the runner-up received a school great. Mary Thomas and Carol Underhill, who tied in the junior girls' class, each received a medal.

Stitch, Stitch, Stitch Is War Song At Ordnance

Under the command of Capt. H. J. Stoops, the ordnance depot in Aurora is rapidly expanding. There is a military staff of 23 on hand and 125 civilian employees, most of whom are women. To the depot come worn, torn, dirty and battered clothing, web equipment, anti-gas equipment, mess tins, tents, mattresses, boots, and other items of a salvagable nature from the units of M.D. 2.

Mulooks for ski troops, a sort of shoepack or moccasin, slippers for hospital patients, covers for water-bottles, and darning thread for soldiers are some of the by-products the branch creates from the materials and equipment received.

Old socks for instance, have the feet cut out and are sent to Indian schools, where they are unravelled, and the yarn wound on cardboard for soldier's "housewives." Uniforms, sweaters, greatcoats, underwear, gloves, etc., if they are too worn to be re-issued to the troops, are sent to the Indian department and find their way to the Indians.

All equipment is repaired, washed and disinfected, and, if suitable, re-issued to the troops. Hospital slippers are made from worn-out fatigue shoes with a sole made from worn-out greatcoats.

The shoe department, under Staff-Sergeant Ambrose Cotten, is now handling over 300 pairs of shoes a day and the staff are experimenting to find ways and means to increase this volume.

After the shoes are repaired they go back to the units for re-issue. A shoe rebuilding department awaits additional machinery.

Not an ounce or scrap of equipment is wasted. Cloth or clothing that cannot be re-issued or sold for use is sold as scrap. Leather and mess tins that are too badly dented for re-enamelling are also sold for scrap. Old shoe laces are cleaned and go to prisoners of war. Old mattresses, too hard to sleep on, have the insides removed and are sold back to the manufacturers, while the covers are cut and issued to the R.C.A.S.C. garages for grease cloths.

Similar depots are established in all parts of Canada but the Aurora plant is thought to be the most up-to-date and advanced in methods. All ideas developed at each depot are pooled.

National salvage, so ably carried out as a war effort by the Canadian people as a whole, finds the Canadian army in this war saving every dollar it can so far as equipment and the reclaiming of needed supplies are concerned.

AURORA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH, 1942

Stitch, Stitch, Stitch Is War Song At Ordnance

Under the command of Capt. H. J. Stoops, the ordnance depot in Aurora is rapidly expanding. There is a military staff of 23 on hand and 125 civilian employees, most of whom are women. To the depot come worn, torn, dirty and battered clothing, web equipment, anti-gas equipment, mess tins, tents, mattresses, boots, and other items of a salvagable nature from the units of M.D. 2.

Mulooks for ski troops, a sort of shoepack or moccasin, slippers for hospital patients, covers for water-bottles, and darning thread for soldiers are some of the by-products the branch creates from the materials and equipment received.

Old socks for instance, have the feet cut out and are sent to Indian schools, where they are unravelled, and the yarn wound on cardboard for soldier's "housewives." Uniforms, sweaters, greatcoats, underwear, gloves, etc., if they are too worn to be re-issued to the troops, are sent to the Indian department and find their way to the Indians.

All equipment is repaired, washed and disinfected, and, if suitable, re-issued to the troops. Hospital slippers are made from worn-out fatigue shoes with a sole made from worn-out greatcoats.

The shoe department, under Staff-Sergeant Ambrose Cotten, is now handling over 300 pairs of shoes a day and the staff are experimenting to find ways and means to increase this volume.

After the shoes are repaired they go back to the units for re-issue. A shoe rebuilding department awaits additional machinery.

Not an ounce or scrap of equipment is wasted. Cloth or clothing that cannot be re-issued or sold for use is sold as scrap. Leather and mess tins that are too badly dented for re-enamelling are also sold for scrap. Old shoe laces are cleaned and go to prisoners of war. Old mattresses, too hard to sleep on, have the insides removed and are sold back to the manufacturers, while the covers are cut and issued to the R.C.A.S.C. garages for grease cloths.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Jack Johnston of Edgeley was lucky not to lose the sight of an eye last week when he was wounded in the face by two pellets from the gun of a fellow hunter during the pheasant shoot in Vaughan township.

Oliver Whitmore brought Johnston to Aurora when the first box lacrosse team was organized here in 1930 and Jack was a stand-out player in his first season. We played on defence with him and we can vouch for his speed and ability. He had plenty of the old moxie too. That was the year the late Fred. Browning organized a team to play in the Tri-County league in a group that included Richmond Hill, Bradford and Barrie in the southern group, and Orillia, Camp Borden, Alliston and Huntsville in a northern group.

Richmond Hill, with a comparatively green team led by "Rusty" White, upset the appraised by downing the favored Aurora team in the play-offs and bowed to Orillia in the final. Johnston was claimed by the Hill under the residence rule the next season and was a member of the Young Canadians the year they won the Tri-County honors. The Aurora team, if you can remember back that far, included Charlie Milne,

Oliver Whitmore, Johnston, Wilkie Fleury, Bruce Browning, "Kid" Harman, the late George Hart, Bill Patrick, "Shorty" Turan, Leo Cull, Jack Egan, Percy Brodie, "Nimby" Hodgins, Ted Heaney and yours truly among the players, and we have probably missed one or two. The largest gate ever, with one exception, was paid at the turnstiles in the local arena for the final game, which saw Rusty White released from the penalty box in time to score the winning counter. The team had a banquet at a restaurant conducted by Bill Neufeld and received black leather windbreakers trimmed with orange, to wind up the season. Over-confidence was the main thing that spelled defeat.

Doug Smith, in his day a member of Aurora hockey and lacrosse teams, is scheduled to coach the new C.P.R. entry this season in the Varsity mercantile loop. Doug, who is employed by a Toronto departmental store, has held more high honors in Toronto sports than anyone we know about. He was president of the T.A.S.A. this year, and has held top hockey and basketball posts in the interchurch loops. As a coach he has piloted Post Office among others to a title. He was a member of that good Aurora Lee junior club which won the O.H.A. title and included Lionel Conacher in its line-up. He will perhaps be remembered best in North York by his nickname of "Nigger."

"Wild" Bill Roberts, who starred on the defence for Newmarket Redmen in intermediate hockey a few years back, will be one of Smith's ace players. Roberts played for Sutton Greenshirts last year. Crafty as a fox, fast as a rabbit, and slippery as an eel, Roberts was continually in hot water with the referees, for he really loved to bounce the opposition and if he couldn't stop them that way he used other less legitimate means. If you could keep Bill on the ice the game was generally in the bag. He has already been overseas in this war and honorably discharged.

Larry O'Connor, ace Canadian hurdler and the lad who put track and field events on the map at No. 23 B.T.C., Newmarket, has finally started on his officer's course and is now at Gordon Head, B.C. A few weeks hence and he will be "Mr. O'Connor" to the boys.

Ewart Jennings, the former high school basketballer and a member of Case's Aces this season and King City softball club of other years, is fast coming to the front as a plowman. He won one of the novice classes at the King-Vaughan meet a few weeks ago and has been near the top in other competitions.

Roy Smith, who also played for the Aces, while he has not as yet won a first prize this year, has been up near the top too. We are pleased to see so many of the younger farm lads take an active interest in the plowing competitions which, while technically not under the athletic category, provide quite a bit of interest for the farmers and certainly make for better crops.

Willowdale rink, the scene of countless hockey matches and lacrosse too, has gone the way of all flesh. As a rink it is now defunct and is being used as a garage this year. It was built back at the time when Metropolitan hockey was on its last legs. First big team to play there was the North Toronto intermediate team, which ousted a strong Newmarket team when Stan Smith, Bill Epworth, Dick Hugo, Lou Bovair and others were carrying the torch. That North Toronto team included Murray, Conacher, Renie, the Birt brothers, "Wee" Young, Johnny McPherson and others who found their mark in pro ranks. Guelph pulled a surprise to eliminate them after they had intermediate honors on a platter.

North York A.C. played there for years and such boys as George Scott, Gordy Fanning, Irwin Brown, Dave Murray and George Stark, who all played with Aurora, got their start there. Each year the Toronto outdoor leagues used games a night were played there. Now, with Willowdale out, Richmond Hill rink is due to cut a big melon, as Wexford and Unionville rinks can't be reached by radial. Understand T.H.L. officials are trying to rent the Richmond Hill rink for the entire season. Aurora rink may also get a few T.H.L. games if officials look after things.

Mervyn Broughton, now stationed in Brockville training centre with the army, underwent an operation this week and is reported to be doing nicely. The former Aurora-Newmarket junior had expected to see some hockey action in that neck of the woods this winter but may not now.

Jimmy Green, the Richmond Hill softballer, after two months in a military hospital has now been released fit as the proverbial fiddle.

His pal, Tim Saul, who knew no peer as a second baseman in the York-Simcoe league is still stationed at Brampton training centre.

Blondie Rawlings, the slim King City lad, who had a trial with Aurora juniors and failed to stick but played useful hockey for King City the past two years, has volunteered for the R.C.A.F. and will report for duty in February. He will be available for King City hockey meanwhile.

Harvey Fingold, now a student at Toronto Varsity and who played both basketball and soccer at Aurora high, has caught a place at fullback for the University college team in the interfaculty series, and is said to be playing a fair sort of game. "Dents" are leading the interfaculty series. Fingold is the only Aurora grad now carrying on the Aurora soccer tradition at Varsity, which 20 years ago saw seven or eight former Aurora boys kicking the oval pigskin. "Scotty" Mafr, as he had originally planned, has joined the navy and is a candidate for the navy senior O.H.A. team. Last week we reported Hughie as likely to stick with St. Catharines for the season. Our information came from one who had just come back from St. Kitt's and Hughie at that time was kicking out with the Saints. This column is written by Saturday of the weekend previous to publication. Consequently, once in a while, we are a bit behind times by the date you cast your optics on Down the Centre.

Mair left St. Kitt's last weekend, as naval authorities gave him his call. Unless we are misinformed, Bill Wilson and Pete Donkin are still in Toronto and will be teammates of Scotty. "Pick" Hines, who once coached North Toronto and Willowdale teams as well as many other bigger teams, is the new navy coach. C. Wentworth, the former Etobicoke coach and ex-professional, having turned down the job.

Last post has been sounded for Sgt. W. F. Bauer of Waterloo and Seaman Jim Ley of Richmond Hill. Both lads were killed on active service. The late Sgt. "Wil" Bauer was a member of that doughty band of Waterloo Siskins who ousted Aurora from a junior B title in 1939-40 and went on to beat Owen Sound in the finals. He was one of three brothers who played against Aurora and a cousin of Bobbie Bauer, a former member of the famous Boston Bruins' Kraut line. The Waterloo club incidentally got its name, "Siskins," from a type of aeroplane used during the last war.

Jimmy Ley, who was in his 26th year, for four years in a row won championship at Richmond Hill high school, the only athlete in the history of the school to do so. In inter-school competition, when Bruce Stiles, Jim Cook, the Cox brothers, the Dales brothers and many more were representing Aurora and Newmarket in secondary school battles for the Eckhardt trophy, young Ley more than upheld the honors for the red and white clad Hill warriors. Bauer was killed in action overseas and was west as a member of the Canadian navy, being buried in England on Oct. 21. He is the third graduate of Richmond Hill high school to make "the supreme sacrifice." Both lads were of the finest type of sportsmen it has been our pleasure to know.

Ginger Hall, who was the big star of Sutton's championship march to a title last year, is being counted on to guard the nets for the new Stafford entry in the West Toronto mercantile. Jack Culverwell also is trying to persuade his old teammate to play with his jewelry entry. Hall is a four-star performer. We notice that Morton Engineering of Quebec City, with practically the same line-up that shaded Sutton last year—the eastern Canada finals, barely lost out to Les Canadiens last week in an exhibition tilt. Guess pro hockey is definitely not as strong as in former years.

"Blondie" Prokop, who played with Owen Sound against Aurora three years ago and last year was with Cleveland, is back in amateur ranks again with St. Catharines. With war work paying top wages, the boys are passing minor pro hockey jobs this season on money grounds.

Charlie Smith's record for the racing season just past, in case you're interested, reads as follows: 21 firsts, 26 seconds and 22 thirds. Not a bad performance considering the fact he didn't ride most of the season, or at least not more than half of the time.

Jack Evelyn of Elgin Mills, former assistant professional at the Summit Golf club, celebrated his second birthday overseas last week. Jack has just turned 21 and is serving with the artillery.

Millard Pivnick of Sutton, who played both junior lacrosse and hockey for the Lake Simcoe village a few years back, is another district athlete who has returned home from overseas because of illness. Pivnick spent two years in Britain.

Georgetown is the first town comparable in size to North York centres which has announced its intention of again having a hockey team. Last year Georgetown had a good team in the intermediate series which, like Sutton's, was largely made up of Toronto mercenaries. Their entry will, however, depend on "suitable grouping." Evidently the Georgetown officials have found the answer to the transportation problem. There's a chance for some of the armchair critics in Aurora or Newmarket to solve a real problem. With the change in the weather, we have noticed pretty James B. Walker, Reeve Charlie Malloy and Andy Closs doing considerable silent cogitating, all of which may or may not mean some action on the local hockey front.

Pleasant shooting stories are now coming to light. From Markham township comes the story of Mrs. F. A. Clark of Headford, who, after 35 years without a gun in her hand, fired three shots and knocked down three birds. From Markham township also comes the story of Ira Grove, who fired but two shots and bagged not two birds but three. Three birds, as you know, is the quota any hunter can obtain. These are not Paul Bunyan stories but verified ones and they put to shame the efforts of many of our friends who for years have boasted of their ability with a gun.

Sgt. Sydney Barraclough of the York county police, who went after the birds in Vaughan township, wasn't satisfied merely to bag some pheasants but got the head on a red fox and Master Reynard bit the dust. Now the boys are heading northward this week for bigger game, but despite all promises we'll order the custom, any trusty roset until that promised venison is safely in sight. One hunter suggested last week, "The only trouble about the pheasant shoot was that the pheasants

INES TO WAR CENTRES ARE ESPECIALLY BUSY

Long distance calls to most points still go through at accustomed speed. But if you are trying to reach a key war centre, chances are that you may encounter some delay. Telephone routes to such areas are the most congested in Canada.

Naturally, we would build more lines if we could. But the materials that go into telephone equipment have been drafted for direct war purposes. We must get along with what we have.

And we can—provided you keep your long distance calls brief and make them, whenever possible, in off-peak hours . . . provided above all, that you avoid all unnecessary calls over routes which your experience shows to be congested with war calls.

When possible, use these OFF-PEAK HOURS:
Before 9 a.m.; 12-2 p.m.; 5-7 p.m.; after 8.30 p.m.

The Safest Way to Invest Your Money

VICTORY BONDS REPAY ... Every Dollar You Invest!

When you buy Victory Bonds you are laying up for yourself the best of all investments, for back of each one is your country's solemn promise that every dollar you invest in Victory Bonds will be repaid to you in full, plus a fair rate of interest. You can borrow against them, and they are readily saleable when you need the cash. And that solemn promise of repayment in full is backed by all the vast resources of the Dominion of Canada.

When the war is over, you will want to buy all the things we must deny ourselves now. Then, your Victory Bonds will give you the money to buy all these—and your purchases will provide new employment for our boys when they come home again.

What's your share of the savings job? Well, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada to meet Canada's need $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. But the average may not fit your case. Your own circumstances are distinctly your own. You may be able to do better both out of your current income and out of your accumulated savings in the bank—or you may not be able to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

Among the many good things done by the Women's Institute in the community is the Hallowe'en party which they give each year for the children and grown-ups.

This year, in spite of a rainy night, was no exception. The convener of the program committee, Mrs. Macpherson, spared no effort to make it a success. The hall was decorated for the occasion and looked lovely with spooky lights and all sorts of pumpkin faces and black cats and ghosts.

Beth Theaker and Almer Paisley were the winners of the next group. Mrs. Couper took the prize for the grown-ups.

Sgt. Howard Morton, home from Camp Borden, made a fine master of ceremonies. All kinds of games were enjoyed and a great deal of fun got out of bobbing for apples. A gypsy told fortunes, which were taken seriously by the younger people.

POLICE COURT Convicted For Killing Pig In Field With Truck

Failing to have licenses for their radios brought fines of $3 and costs to each of two Aurora men, Ernest Graham and Walter Long, when they pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in York county police court, Newmarket, on Tuesday. Mr. Graham told his worship that he had intended to purchase a license and had been waiting until a returned soldier, whom he understood was selling the licenses, came to his home.

"You waited too long," commented Magistrate Woodliffe.

After hearing further evidence in the case of 20-year-old James Kilpatrick, Holland Landing, who was charged with unlawfully killing a sow valued between $100 and $150, belonging to Marjorie Neilson, a neighbor, on the evening of Oct. 14, when he was chasing it out of his field with a truck, Magistrate Woodliffe found the youth guilty of the charge and adjourned the case one week for sentence.

William Jackson, who testified that he was in the truck with the defendant at the time the pig is alleged to have been killed, told his worship that it was he who had called "let her have it" after he jumped off the truck to get the back panel which had fallen off the back of the vehicle. He said that he was not referring to the pig when he uttered the statement but that he meant that Kilpatrick should start the truck again as he had gotten on the back of it.

He said that he did not see or feel the animal being struck nor hear it squeal.

In reference to a statement made by the defendant in court last week that the sow had been on the Kilpatrick farm steadily during two weeks previous, Mr. Neilson stated that "the sow was on my property night and day during two weeks previous until the day before, when someone let it out."

Called to the stand by the crown, Bert Donaldson, Holland Landing, informed his worship that he lived opposite the Neilson farm and on the night in question heard the squeal of the pig and saw the lights of the truck in the field. Questioned by the defence as to whether the squeal that he heard could have been the squeal of the brakes of the truck, the witness stated that it might have been, that he was not familiar with the sound of the brakes of the truck.

According to Mrs. Eleanor Bonell, Holland Landing, she had met William Jackson on his way from the Kilpatrick farm and he told her about the chasing of the pig.

"He said that they had hunted her with the truck and chased her until froth came out of her mouth, then deliberately killed her," she stated.

"There is one bad feature to the case and that is that they did not report the accident," stated counsel for the defence. "But these were young boys. I am sure that if Mr. Kilpatrick had been home, he would have reported it."

"I don't think there is any evidence of deliberately killing the pig," continued the defence. "It was an accident. They avoided hitting it with the front wheels and hit it with the back ones. I think they were scared to death to report it."

"I am satisfied, on the evidence given in this court, that you do liberally ran the sow down," Magistrate Woodliffe admonished the youth. "That pig was valuable. It was due to pig shortly."

Commenting on the seriousness of the offence, N. L. Mathews, K.C., for the crown, stated that the maximum penalty was 11 years in jail.

His worship adjourned the case until next week to give the defendant an opportunity to make restitution.

A suspended sentence was given Mrs. Teresa Kallontoff, Newmarket, who was found guilty in police court last week of stealing a clock valued at $2.50 from Pines' Jewellery store, Newmarket, on Oct. 16. The case had been held over from last week for sentence. Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews said that the defendant had no previous record. His worship placed her on probation for six months.

"You have no idea of the responsibility of a driver," Magistrate Woodliffe told Ralph Havinga, King township, when he fined him $10 and costs of $5.75 or ten days and denied him the right to drive for a period of one year.

His worship found the 21-year-old youth guilty of a charge of dangerous driving in Holland Landing public park on Oct. 18, when he drove his car into that of Clifford Linstead of Sharon.

According to Mr. Linstead, he had three passengers in his car and had parked it in the public field at 5 p.m. on Oct. 18, when shortly afterwards the defendant drove into the field with three others in his car and proceeded to push his (the witness's) car back and forth about the field. He said that the four men then got out of the Havinga car and began to shake and then to tip his car over sideways. They then got back into their car and Mr. Havinga drove into his car, causing considerable damage to the front of it.

Lowell Palmateer, a passenger in the Linstead car, and Harold Smart, a spectator, both of Newmarket, confirmed the previous witness's statements.

"I arrived at the park at 10 p.m.," testified County Constable Ronald Watt. "I found Clifford Linstead's car on the west side of the park. The front bumper was broken, the left front tire blown out, the wheel and axle bent and the fender bent. The accused was not there when I arrived. He later came walking over with three others.

"I asked him where his car was and he said that he had taken it up on a hill and hid it, as he was afraid that someone would take his gas. There was no damage done to the car except that the license plate appeared to be bent and the left tire was flat. He told me it wasn't unusual to push another car or be pushed in the field. He admitted pushing the Linstead car with his car. His attitude was that it was more of a joke than a serious matter."

On the stand, Mr. Havinga admitted pushing the Linstead car with his car and said that he drove out of the park at between ten and 15 miles an hour.

Counsel for the defence argued that the park was an enclosed field and contended that the charge should be dismissed on the grounds that although the park is a public place it is not a highway or thoroughfare.

"There'll be a conviction," commented his worship. "I do not think that you should be driving at all. You're no idea of the responsibility of a driver."

Pleading guilty to a joint charge of consuming liquor, Joseph Myers and Daniel Kenney, Jr., Newmarket, were each fined $10 and costs or ten days and their liquor ordered confiscated.

According to Constable Carl Morton of North Gwillimbury, on the morning of Oct. 12, at 1:20 a.m., he had been seated in his car at Riveredge Park when he observed the two men go behind a sign and drink from a bottle. He said that they admitted that they were drinking whiskey when he questioned them.

A charge of illegal possession against Mr. Kenney was withdrawn.

A charge of driving at 65 miles an hour, contrary to the war measures act, against Louis Raxlen, Toronto, was adjourned until next week in order to allow Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson and the defendant time to produce additional witnesses.

According to Constable Ferguson, he had been in his car parked at the corner of Eagle and Yonge Sts., at 8:40 p.m. on Sept. 22, when he observed the defendant's car exceeding the speed limit. He said that he immediately gave chase and timed the car going at 65 miles an hour and "a little better" between Armitage and St. Andrew's College.

In his own defence, Mr. Raxlen denied that he had been going at more than 10 miles an hour. He said that the only time that he went over 40 was when he was passing another car, at which time he went 43 miles an hour. He said that when the officer stopped him he thought he was joking.

"If you thought I was joking, why did you phone another police officer and ask about having it fixed?" questioned Constable Ferguson.

The defendant denied that he asked another officer about having it "fixed" and said that he was asking information about the kind of charge that was laid.

When called to the stand Frank Pettus, Toronto, passenger in the Raxlen car, testified that Mr. Raxlen had not been going over 40 miles an hour.

When Constable Ferguson asked an adjournment of the case for a week in order to enable him to obtain the police officer to whom it is alleged that Mr. Raxlen telephoned, the defendant said that he would like to call the justice of the peace before whom the evidence on the summons was sworn, in order to question the accuracy of the police officer, Allan M. Mills, court clerk, told his worship that he was the justice of the peace in the case.

Found guilty of having inefficient brakes on his car, Wesley Quinton, Meaford, was fined $10 and costs or ten days. Constable Ferguson told his worship that when he tested the brakes in East Gwillimbury on Oct. 2, the service brake stopped the car in 150 feet and the hand brake in 55 feet.

"The service brake was practically useless," the officer stated.

At the request of counsel for the defence, who stated that one of the defendants was ill and could not be present, the case of Mrs. Betty Morden and William Morden, York township, who were jointly charged with giving liquor to minors was adjourned another week for judgment. Evidence in the case had been heard at that time and his worship reserved judgment in order to ascertain proof of the age of the youths who gave evidence.

His worship, at the request of the defendant, adjourned for two weeks the case of Mrs. Verna Pollock of Island Grove, who is charged with illegal shipping or transporting of a quantity of trout. The charge was laid on complaint of Constable Ernest Prosser, game warden. The accused woman is also jointly charged with Duncan Asquith of Island Grove, with illegal possession of fish and with having fish killed in a manner prohibited by law.

A further remand to Dec. 1 was granted in the case of Gordon Hodie, Toronto, who is charged with careless driving and with dangerous driving.
